The top subjects teachers want to take digital

K-12 educators embracing eBooks in the classroom

According to a 2016 ASCD/OverDrive survey, more than 80% of districts and schools in the U.S. use digital content, and more than 12,000 worldwide have made this critical shift with OverDrive. Six million K-12 students had access to eBooks and audiobooks in the 2015-2016 school year, with the number of digital titles borrowed increasing by 60 percent.

We recently polled administrators to find the most popular subjects their teachers are looking to go digital:
